

THE ROAD TO THE WHITE HOUSE

BACKGROUND

8 NOVEMBER
Donald Trump is declared the president-elect of the United States

He will have to wait 10 WEEKS before entering the White House

JANUARY
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23

THE TRANSITION

Donald Trump can now begin preparing to be president

He will finalise the legislative agenda for the FIRST 100 DAYS in office

He will have to select key staff members including:

Nominees are confirmed by the senate and sworn into office following the inauguration of the new president

THE 'LAME DUCK' SESSION

Mr Obama will remain in office, but will officially become

A 'LAME DUCK'
PRESIDENT

He has 73 days to complete as much of his legislative agenda as possible

THE INAUGURATION

INAUGURATION takes place 20 January 2017
on the steps of the US Capitol building

The president-elect will take an OATH
pledging fealty to the US constitution

The president will then deliver an
INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Meanwhile staff will be MOVING OUT of the White House to make room for the new administration

Finally there is an INAUGURAL BALL
and President Trump begins his new job

Heightened market volatility is likely over the election period. Increased volatility means increased risk. Check your margin cover, manage risk and monitor positions. Losses can exceed deposits. You don't own underlying assets. Consider relevant PDS as cmcmarkets.com.au