a. Enter the stock you want to trade
b. Click the buy or sell button to change the order type
c. Enter the quantity you wish to buy or sell
d. Select the order instructions – choose between ‘Limit’, ‘At Market’, or ‘Conditional Order’
e. Select an expiry for your order – ‘Good Till Cancelled’, ‘Day Only’, or a specific date
f. Add an optional stop loss order to this position to protect against adverse price movements
g. Add an optional take profit order to this position so that you can exit your trade when an advantageous price is reached
h. Enter trading PIN to place your order

Order instructions:
- Limit price: A maximum price on a buy order or a minimum price on a sell order. If the market doesn’t reach the set price, the order won’t be executed.
- At market: An order that you use to specify the direction and size of a trade, but not the price, which will generally be placed 3 price steps above or below the last sale.
- Conditional order: An order that sets a ‘trigger’ to execute based on a set of criteria or market conditions.
- Stop loss: An option to submit an order to the market to close your position when the price reaches your specified stop-loss price.
- Take profit: An option to submit an order to the market to close an open position at a more profitable price compared to the price when placing the order.

Expiry definitions:
- Good till cancelled: The order will not expire until it is filled or the stock is purged by the ASX.
- Day Only: This type of order will expire at the end of the day if it has not filled.
